

Pamela Gallagher has been a member of SNAPa since 1993. She currently serves SNAPa members as the Secretary/Treasurer for the association. She has served in this position since 2007. Serving on the SNAPa Board has enabled her to expand her experience and knowledge in school food service. Pam loves networking with other school food service professionals and appreciates learning about innovations in school food service.

Pam obtained her Bachelor Degree in Business as well as her MBA from Holy Family University in Philadelphia. Pam credits the School Nutrition Association for making her educational goals obtainable through Schwan's and other scholarship opportunities. Currently, Pamela is the Director of Child Nutrition Service in Allentown, PA. In this position, Pam manages 22 school operations serving over 19,000 students.

Pam looks forward to the evolution of our organization as we continue to assist school food and nutrition professionals in training, education, and professional development.
