PA Harvest of the Month

FREE Chef Consultation and Training Opportunity Sponsored by the PA Department of Health & PA Harvest of the Month

Chef Bill has been providing culinary training to schools for over 30 years, with a strong emphasis on incorporating more fresh fruits and vegetables, healthier proteins, beans and legumes, and alternative grains onto school menus. His main goal is to show that the same culinary fundamentals that are utilized in high-end restaurants are needed in school kitchens. He aims to provide schools with basic food prep training that staff can use to prepare healthier school meals.

Webinar Series

It's a Virtual Thing: Tips and Strategies for Offering Virtual Training in Child Nutrition

SNA Key Area(s): 3, Administration

USDA Professional Standard Code(s): 3000

Learning Objective(s): Participants will be able to recall tips and strategies for offering and pursuing virtual training as an alternative to face-to-face training.

Thursday, June 25, 2020/3:00-4:00 PM ET
(2-3 PM CT; 1-2 PM MT; 12-1 PM PT)

Virtual training is an innovative way to meet professional development needs in child nutrition and other professions. With the right tools and strategies, this method can reach a large number of people while offering them information that is new or merely a review. Register today to hear from professionals in the field who provide virtual training on the local, state, and national levels. You will walk away with tools you can use today to begin implementing virtual training in your area of child nutrition.

As always, a continuing education certificate will be available after completion of the webinar.
